CITIZENS AROUSED BY THE EXCESSIVE PRICES LEVIED FOR MILK PLAN ACTION

Excessive prices on any foodstuffs are an intolerable injustice to a community; but an excessive price on milk, which works a hardship on babies, growing children and invalids, is a positive bane that should be investigated and eliminated with dispatch.

Milk is a necessity to the life of babies; it is the most important element in the nourishment of children up to their tenth year, and even beyond that age; it is a food that many invalids can scarcely do without. Yet the price in Glendale and vicinity of this vitally important food element is 16 cents as compared with a price of 10 and 11 cents in most other sections, even in some parts of the country where feed is higher and pasturage scarcer.

Glendale residents are interested in knowing why such a state of affairs should exist.

One quart of milk a day costs the sum of $4.80 a month. Families in Glendale that have three, four or five children under ten years of age need three times that amount; but many of them can't have it, for 3 quarts a day for a month amount to $14.40. Therefore future citizens of the republic are deprived in their infancy of the material that makes bone and brawn. Profiteering in the material of bone and brawn of future citizens of the republic is more than a shabby business; it is decidedly unpatriotic.

All Los Angeles clubwomen who are not compelled to buy milk because they have small children or invalids in the family have pledged themselves to do without it until it comes down to a reasonable price. What will Glendale do about it?

CANFIELD PLACE IS SOLD AGAIN AND P. B. MUSIC IS NEW OWNER

One of the notable sales of recent days was that of the Canfield place as it is still called, on Verdugo canyon road. Miss Helen McCay, of Los Angeles, was the owner and P. B. Music of West Broadway, Glendale, the purchaser. The consideration was about $24,000. The A. J. Lucas real estate agency of 309 South Brand negotiated the sale.

Mr. Music is a member of one of the pioneer families of this section and has a wife, one son and two daughters. All will enjoy their beautiful new home in the scenic section of Glendale. The house sits close to the road, which is a much-traveled highway leading to Montrose, La Crescenta, Sunland, La Canada, Flintridge and Pasadena. Several almond trees grace the beautifully green front yard and on the remaining five acres are peaches, apricots and other fruits, including berries and a quantity of Concord grapes. The house has eight large rooms and a sleeping porch and just back of it are servants' quarters and a large garage. The view from the front porch and the upper rooms is beautiful beyond description—green wooded hills and mountains, far-stretching orange, lemon and olive groves, liveoak, alder, sycamore and other shade trees.

The Canfields have been still living on the place since they sold it, and will build on a beautiful site a short distance north.

The sins of the children are visited on the fatherland.

Chicago Detective Robbed

(By International News Service)

KENOSHA, Wis., June 11.—W. Scott Johnson for 40 years a Chicago detective, declares that Kenosha pickpockets have been guilty of "lese majesty."

Johnson visited a cousin here. Ten minutes after he stepped off the train he discovered his wallet, containing $500, had been taken from an inside coat pocket. He had never been robbed in Chicago.

Now Johnson is "gunning" for pickpockets.

ONE OF THE FINEST BOYS THAT EVER ARRIVED

On the authority of one of the best known physicians of this city the Press is able to announce the birth into the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Neale of one of the finest boys who ever selected Glendale parents. He was weighed on arrival, the scales recording 9½ pounds, and he is exhibiting all the lusty vigor that should accompany such avoirdupois. He received a most cordial welcome, especially from his father, who is already considering plans for his education and for making him a silent partner in his business and social enterprises. His heredity gives promise that he will be a good fisherman. No name has yet been selected, but that will doubtless be announced by the time Mr. Neale gets around to distribute the cigars and boxes of candy that are expected from a man who has been so greatly blessed.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE MEETS TONIGHT TO PLAN WORK FOR CONVENTION

Ably generaled by Miss Ethel Preston, the entertainment committee for the Christian Endeavor convention will outline plans and preparations for the social work in connection with the great event, at a party for committee members at the bungalow of the Christian church this evening.

An attendance of 100 is expected, and the affair will combine pleasure with business.

Decorations are in charge of Mmes. Hewitt and Frazee, the committee on games includes Mrs. Edwin Murphy, Mrs. C. C. Stoler and Miss Marjorie Smith, and the refreshments are in charge of Mmes. West, James Cooper and King.

Ten captain will have charge of the work of canvassing the city for quarters to house the guests of the convention. Each of these will have a meeting with members of his team during the week and the canvass will begin next Saturday.

The work to be considered by the committee at this evening's meeting includes, besides the canvassing plan, that of entertainment at the Tabernacle and other social work.

THE STYLUS READY

The high school Stylus is now ready and is being distributed among students. It is one of the best productions of its kind ever printed in Southern California.

CAPTAIN THOS. D. WATSON RETURNS FROM CONFERENCE AT CITY OF SACRAMENTO

Captain Thomas D. Watson, commanding officer of "Glendale's Own Company" of the California National Guard, returned this morning from Sacramento where for the past three days he has been attending a conference of officers of the National Guard of the state which was called by General J. J. Borree, adjutant general of California. The main purpose of the meeting was to enable commanding officers to get acquainted with each other.

Captain Watson reports a very successful conference and a very good time, as General Borree had arranged for something to be doing every minute.

On Thursday the officers were luncheon guests of the general at the Rotary club, where they were addressed by Col. H. D. Colburn of the United States army at Sacramento, Major E. E. Kirk of Los Angeles, Major R. E. Mittelstaedt of San Francisco and Oakland, Major S. E. Cline of San Diego, Captain L. T. Stephenson of Fresno, Captain Fontaine Johnson of Sacramento, Lieut. Jess L. Elliott of Santa Ana, and Major David P. Barrows of Berkeley, president of the University of California, who was the chief speaker. It was an intensely patriotic affair which closed with the singing of "America."

Thursday evening the officers were the guests of General Borree at a banquet at the Land Hotel and Mr. Watson is still smacking his lips over the delicious seven-course dinner of squabs and other good thing. At this time they were addressed by Mr. Douglas, former assistant secretary of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce, by Col. D. A. Smith, who has

A GOLDEN BIRTHDAY PARTY IN HONOR OF JUNE SCHENK

When one has reached the ripe age of four years, one begins to remember things quite clearly; and a memory that will live long in the minds of 12 little children of Glendale was the delightful party given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Harry R. Schenk, 1143 East Elk avenue, in celebration of the fourth birthday of her little daughter, June.

Glorious golden yellow was the color motif carried out in the elaborate decorations of the pretty affair; garlands of yellow ribbons extended from the chandeliers to the corners of the table; thirty yellow balloons floated entrancingly above it; a yellow table cloth accentuated the color note; yellow baskets on it held candies and whistles as favors, and even the cake and ice cream were yellow.

The ice cream was a double delight because it was not just every-day ice cream; it was in the shape of animals: Dogs and kittens and bears and lions and everything! And it made everybody laugh to eat an ice cream bear, or an ice cream dog or an ice cream cat!

"London Bridge is Falling Down" and lots of other games like that, made the time pass quickly for all the little children who came to help June celebrate her birthday, and the names of all the children who shared the happy afternoon are: Marian and Madeline Treeman, Lois and Helen Bentley, Beverly and George Starbuck, Jack McKenzie, Clinton Adams, Paula Brown, Evelyn Mitchell of Los Angeles, Richard McMullin, and the small hostess, June Schenk.

Of course, when one is only four, one cannot go to a party alone, so all the children's mothers were there, too, and also enjoyed the party.

BAND OF AMERICAN LEGION TO HAVE STREET DANCE

As a joint benefit for the Glendale Post of the American Legion and for the band of the local post, which has been to considerable expense for uniforms and instruments, a street dance will be given tonight at Brand and Broadway. The American Legion band of 25 pieces will furnish the music and a charge of 5 cents per couple will be made for each dance. It will begin at 8 p. m. A booth is being erected, where home-made candy, which has been donated, will be sold by members of the Women's Auxiliary, who will also dispense ice cream and cake for a consideration. Every citizen in Glendale stands back of the American Legion and the ex-service men who compose the local post, and this dance is certain to be well patronized.

WATCH OUT FOR A FISH STORY

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. White of East Doran street set forth last evening on an automobile trip that promised adventure and delight to lovers of the great out-of-doors.

BEAUTIFUL VISTA PLAN FOR SAN FERNANDO AND BRAND, CITY'S GATEWAY

Property owners and others interested in the improvement of Brand boulevard, met at Chamber of Commerce headquarters Friday evening and effected a permanent organization known as the Brand Boulevard Improvement association. Mattison B. Jones was elected president; Kemper Campbell, vice-president, and Charles Guthrie, secretary.

The committee which had previously been appointed to draft and prepare a comprehensive plan or policy and which was composed of Kemper Campbell, chairman; Hartley Shaw and T. W. Watson, then submitted its report which contained four specific recommendations which were discussed and acted upon in order.

Recommendation No. 1 proposed that the city of Glendale immediately take definite steps to establish the grades of all street crossings over the Pacific Electric tracks to correspond with the grades of Brand boulevard on either side. This, it was agreed, would compel the Pacific Electric to lower its tracks at the grade crossings, which would ultimately result in lowering the grade of the entire roadway. This recommendation was adopted and the members of the committee making the report were instructed to present the matter to the city trustees.

The second recommendation that Brand boulevard, between Colorado street and the former Tropico boundary be repaved to make it correspond with the paving south or north of those two points, and that proceedings be instituted at once with the understanding that the Pacific Electric be required to pay its fair share of the expense, was also adopted. It was likewise agreed that the cost of this improvement should be assessed one-third against the property on the west side of Brand, one-third against property on the east side, and one-third against the Pacific Electric railway. The committee appointed to handle this matter consisted of Charles Appenfelder, chairman; S. Berman, F. Hester, S. A. Davis and Burton M. Billings. It will be their duty to at once begin circulating petitions among property owners for the paving of the thoroughfare on both sides.

The report cited that the Pacific Electric company, which owns a private right-of-way, had refused to cooperate in this matter and therefore it would be necessary for the city of Glendale to condemn the right-of-way for street purposes. With this in mind, the association adopted a resolution recommending that such portions of the present right-of-way along Brand boulevard be condemned for street purposes and paved, as from time to time may be necessary to keep up the extension of the business district of the city.

The fourth recommendation of the committee was adopted, viz., "that the Pacific Electric railway be urged to keep its right-of-way in a sightly condition and to oil the same as far south as Los Feliz road to prevent the growth of weeds thereon. That

No Asbestos Handy

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Josephus Daniels, former secretary of the navy, whose difficulties with Read Admiral Sims made naval history during the Wilson administration was asked by the International News Service to express an opinion on the latest escapade of the voluble admiral in London. Today this message was received from Mr. Daniels from his home in Raleigh, N. C.:

"I have no asbestos handy. I would not express myself on anything else.

"JOSEPHUS DANIELS."

CHUMS ENTERTAINED LAST EVENING BY PHILIP BRADLEY

Philip Bradley, a member of the graduating class of Glendale high school, entertained at dinner at his home, 825 East Maple avenue last evening.

Philip's guests were two of the honor men of the class, Maynard Toll and George Jordan, both of them having received medals for superior work in their studies.

The live issues of the day and their own plans and ambitions for the future were discussed by the young men over the toothsome viands prepared by Philip's wise mother who knew that "the long, long dreams of youth" are not incompatible with the healthy, hearty appetites of boyhood.

SENDS GREETINGS TO THE DAILY PRESS

Dr. E. H. Willisford sends greetings to the Daily Press from Houston, Tex., and encloses a silver-bordered card announcing the celebration of the 25th wedding anniversary of himself and his good wife on next Saturday, June 18, at the home, 407 Stratford avenue. Rev. Willisford founded the Congregational church in Glendale and was the pastor for nearly nine years.

DONATE FUNDS FOR PUEBLO FLOOD SUFFERERS

At a meeting of the executive board of the Parent-Teacher Federation held at the close of the all-day conference yesterday, it was voted to give the surplus over $200 made at the recent festival held by the federation to the Glendale Red Cross chapter for relief for the Pueblo flood sufferers.

This surplus, it was found, amounted to $25, and is donated as a gift from the schools of Glendale.

MRS. OSBORNE HAS SOCIAL AFFAIR

One of the most charming social affairs of the week was the luncheon at 1:30 p. m., at which Mrs. Everett Osborne, 447 West Broadway, and Miss Grace Osborne, 406 West Wilson avenue, were hostesses today at the home of the latter.

The entertainment was given in compliment to Mrs. Nellie B. Lee of Montrose, Colo., and 20 guests gathered about the elegantly appointed luncheon table, which was decorated with yellow and white flowers. Place cards in the same cheery color scheme marked the guests' places. The afternoon hours were passed in pleasant conversation and music.

CONGREGATIONALISTS PLAN TO RAISE FUND FOR THEIR BEAUTIFUL NEW CHURCH

An edifice of dignified and churchly appearance and one that will be a distinct credit to the city of Glendale as well as to the congregation which is erecting it, is the new house of worship planned by the First Congregational church of this city.

The building was planned by Carleton Monroe Winslow, prominent Los Angeles architect, who designed many of the buildings and towers of the San Diego fair which are still the delight of all who visit Balboa park in the southern city.

The new church will be mainly Spanish in design and character, blended with characteristics of a Gothic nature, the effort being to have the structure in harmony with the characteristic architecture of Southern California and at the same time express and be appropriate to the religious expression and uses of the Congregational church. The tower in the angle of the court helps to accentuate this idea.

The nave will seat about 550 and the total seating capacity when the gallery and parish hall are used will be about 750. The pews, pulpit, communion table, font, clergy seats, choir, console and organ are arranged with dignity and spaciousness.

The one wing of the building is arranged for grading the church school classes, and a large recreation hall will occupy the basement of the nave; adjacent will be the kitchen and pantries. The pastor's office and secretary's room will be on the main floor near the parish entrance.

In the angle of the building and on the corner of the street will be a garden behind a low wall. The level of the garden will be below the street level to make the basement rooms better lighted and ventilated and to add to the picturesqueness of the landscape gardening.

The cost of this building will approximate $60,000, and an intensive fund-raising campaign is now being carried on, as related in yesterday's issue of the Daily Press.

The church has been growing rapidly during the past year, and since the coming of Rev. Charles M. Calderwood, who assumed the pastorate there last November, the increase in membership has been so great as to render the present building entirely inadequate to accommodate the large attendance.

Rev. Calderwood is a graduate of Grinnell College, Ia., and also of Yale University. He has held important pastorates in New York city, and in cities of Connecticut and Massachusetts.

The Congregational church was established in Glendale in 1911 under the efficient leadership of Dr. E. H. Willisford, who was its pastor up to last November and to whom much credit is due for its growth and harmonious spirit.

INTERMEDIATE AND CERRITOS PLAY BALL

A close, exciting game was played between the first teams of Intermediate and Cerritos in baseball on the field of Intermediate Friday afternoon, which left the score tied and which will require tow more games to decide the championship of the interschool series. Twelve innings had to be played before any advantage could be achieved by either side. When it finally ended about 5:30, the score stood 9 to 8 in favor of Intermediate. John Lovell scored the winning run when Elmer Muff shot a long fly to left field. The ninth inning began with a score of 6 to 6. Cerritos made two runs, but Intermediate came back in their half with two runs, thus tying the score again. Either team to win the pennant must now play two more games, as it goes to the team winning four games out of seven. The score is now two and two.

Mule Goes Insane

(By International News Service)

MAUD, Okla., June 11.—W. H. McElroy, 79 years old, living near here, claims to own the oldest mule in the United States. McElroy stated that he raised the mule from a colt and added that it is 38 years old. The mule has lost its mind and is suffering from senility in many other ways. But "Maud" can still kick.

DINNER AND SOCIAL BY SISTERHOOD

Thursday evening, members of the Sisterhood club of the First Methodist church, entertained their husbands with a dinner in the banquet hall of the church. Covers were laid for about 100 and after appeties had been satisfied with the fine meal served, a social hour was enjooyed with diversions arranged by the entertainment committee consisting of Mmes. Hallett, Clover and Simmons. It included readings by Mrs. Geiger and humorous recitations by Mr. Swisher and game, but was quite informal with no music and no speakers.

HARP NUMBERS AT 'DEESTRICK SKULE'

Music lovers should not overlook the announcement that Mrs. Enona Hopkins, who is the possessor of a very fine harp, which she plays beautifully, has offered to give numbers between the acts fo the amusing farce, "The Deestrick Skule," which is to be repeated at the Tabernacle Monday night by members of the City Teachers' Club. Announcement has already been made that it is to be a benefit for the Colorado flood sufferers and, independent of the great attractions of the performance itself, that fact should crowd the house.

AN ALL-DAY CONFERENCE HELD BY PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION SUCCESSFUL

A fitting finale to a successful year's work was the all-day conference of Glendale Parent-Teacher associations held yesterday at the First Methodist church and attended at both morning and afternoon sessions by large numbers from every Parent-Teacher association in the city.

Mrs. John Robert White, president of the Glendale Federation, presided at both sessions.

The morning session opened at 10 o'clock with the singing of "America" by the audience, with organ accompaniment by Mrs. M. S. Kuehny. Then followed the salute to the flag, led by Mrs. Winona Crawford, chairman of patriotism.

Each division or department contributed something to the program.

Mrs. P. S. McNutt, district parliamentarian, was introduced by the federation parliamentarian, Mrs. A. H. Brown, and gave a parliamentary law drill, dealing with correct forms of acceptance and adoption of reports.

The contribution of the department of education was an address by Mrs. Charles H. Toll, who was introduced by Mrs. C. H. Crawford, chairman of education. Mrs. Toll's topic was "Education Through the Reading Circle."

Mrs. Toll, who founded the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle five years ago, called it "the little sister of the P.-T. A.," and declared that the close association gained by the reading circle's meeting every week makes for understanding, friendship and the recognition of the talents of its members. The reading circle is, furthermore, a democratizing influence, in the opinion of the speaker; women in various walks of life, women of the most varied and diverse views, meet in the reading circle, all having one common object in which they are actively interested—the child and his training.

The speaker quoted Richardson D. White as author of the statement that a marked improvement was shown in the development and deportment of children whose mothers were regular attendants of the reading circle meetings.

Mrs. Winona Crawford, chairman of patriotism introduced Richardson D. White, whose subject was "P.-T. A. and Patriotism." He declared the work of the P.-T. A. to be fundamentally patriotic, in that it represented the cooperation of the home and the school in the making of good citizens. He urged that the ideals of patriotism be impressed upon the minds of the children, especially upon patriotic holidays.

Mrs. Crawford gave a brief history of the flag. Musical numbers of much merit were given by the Girls' Glee club of the Intermediate school and by the orchestra from the same school.

Luncheon served at 12 o'clock by the ladies of the Methodist church was up to the usual high standard of

Body Twitches

(By International News Service)

OMAHA, June 11.—James Battersby, Omaha embalmer at the Hulse and Riepen's funeral home suffered a real shock when the body of Lee Miller, negro, fatally stabbed in a knife duel with John A. Scruggs, was laid on the embalming table, it twitched and squirmed.

Battersby left space behind him in getting to a phone and calling the police surgeon.

"Quick! He's come to life," the embalmer shouted into the receiver.

Police Surgeon Floyd Kinyoun rushed to the undertaking parlors and examined the body. The twitching of Miller's muscles was the action of rigor mortis, the surgeon explained.

All-Day Conference of P.-T. A. Was Success

their culinary achievements and was enjoyed by about 250 guests. The tables were decorated in yellow and white blossoms and ladies serving the luncheon wore white dresses and yellow caps.

A very interesting feature of the afternoon session was a demonstration of the original work done in the study of harmony by the music classes of the high school, under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Dora Gibson. Each young author of the exquisite little vocal and instrumental compositions played or sang her own piece.

Three-minute talks were made by the past presidents of the federation, who were guests of the occasion: Dr. Jessie Russell, Mmes. Florence L. Padelford, C. H. Cole, C. E. Hutchinson, Arthur C. Brown and A. A. Barton.

An organ number, "From the South" (Gillette), by Mrs. Pierson Hanning was a pleasant feature of the afternoon.

Mrs. Frederick Dow of Chicago, gave an inspiring talk on "Thrift," and Lincoln Hart, founder of the Ethical Motion Picture society explained to the parents present the aims and ideals of the society.

Mr. Hart emphasized the vivid appeal of the motion picture and its possibilities in carrying a message of uplift and courage and inspiration to the 50,000,000 people a month in the 18,000 picture theaters of the country. He explained that the purpose of the society is not to censor or criticize, but to encourage and support the picture with a purpose.

Dr. George Pomeroy, recently returned from Turkey, made a most remarkable, thoughtful address on conditions there. He has traveled among the Turks, Greeks and Armenians for a year and a half and has studied at first hand these people and their problems. He described the deplorable conditions under which they live—conditions so wretched, he said, that he would rather be one of the cattle of the country than one of the people, if he had to choose. The life of the people seemed to him almost as purposeless and lacking in ambition as those of the cattle.

He said that as he studied the wonderful carvings and frescoes he found in the ruins of ancient cities there he wondered why these people, descendants of the races who had attained a high degree of civilization, should be in the condition they are today; and his conclusion, after months of most intimate association with them, as their physician in a malarial district, as a prisoner in their prison camps and as a director of one of their hospitals was that the keynote of their apathy and degradation was hate and fear; hate of each other and fear of each other which had been handed down from generation to generation, until it had killed all ambition and inhibited all progress, until at length the people have degenerated to the condition where they have little more ambition than the cows. This hate has brought about an almost complete perversion of their mental vision, so that, the speaker said, he would not believe a statement of an Armenian under oath regarding a Greek, or that of a Greek regarding an Armenian, so distorted are their views of each other.

Mrs. H. R. Archibald of Pasadena, district president of the federation, installed the federation officers and also the officers of the various associations of the city.

Mrs. Robert Wankowski of Venice, delighted the audience with a group of songs: "Just One Day" (Harris), an Indian love song, "By the Waters of Minnetonka" (Lieurance), and "Winds of the South" (Scott). Her beautiful soprano voice so pleased the audience that they clamored for "more," and the singer graciously responded with a cradle song, "You and I," by Lisa Lehmann. Mrs. Wankowski's accompaniments were played most sympathetically by her friend Mrs. Walker, also a resident of Venice.

Radical views will get a following, but they will seldom get a job.

Oak Street Meeting

Editor Glendale Press: At the regular meeting of the Oak Street Improvement association, held on the above date, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Clark, 351 Oak street, the committee of five who were appointed to confer with our city manager, T. W. Watson, relative to ascertaining the city manager's views on the proposed improvement of Oak street, made their report and presented the following resolution which was adopted unanimously.

There were 30 property owners of Oak street present, representing nearly 50 per cent of the abutting property of the street.

Whereas, As stated by the city manager, the cost of materials and labor is still on the decline, and

Whereas, The city manager also informed the committee that at an early date an additional pressure of 25 pounds to the square inch would be added to the water system of Glendale, including the present two-inch 20-year-old main on Oak street, and

Whereas, The city manager states as his opinion, that the present main is likely to give good service for many years to come, it is the opinion of the committee that under the existing circumstances it would be extremely impractical to ask the city to entail the expense of lowering the present main and the abutting property owners to the expense of improving the street with the possibility of the main failing to withstand the anticipated additional pressure, which would necessitate the tearing up of the street for repairs and later on probably an entire new main, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Oak Street Improvement association decides that it will be to the interest of all concerned that the improvement of Oak street be deferred to at least the date when it will be determined whether the present main will withstand the added pressure, whether it will be safe and economical to retain it and improve the street over it.

On motion the secretary was instructed to spread the above resolution on the minutes, mail a copy to T. W. Watson, city manager and request space for the same of the editors of each of our local papers.

F. A. CLARK,
President.
Mrs. E. P. TATLOW,
Secretary-Treasurer.

HAD FANCY FOR SILK SHIRTS

Thomas Connor, age 32, who has been a dishwasher at a restaurant for the past two weeks in Glendale was arrested last night on suspicion of theft. He pleaded guilty to the theft of a suit of clothes, two traveling bags, 2 silk shirts, and one cotton shirt from the rooms of Jesse Chambers and Mr. Tollett. He was also found guilty of having narcotics in his possession.

Officer Scales, assisted by Officers Lauritzezn and Delgardo, made the arrest. Captain McGuire went to Los Angeles and recovered the traveling bags from where Connor had checked them.

On investigation, Connor was found to be going under an assumed name. He says that his home is at Livingstone, and that his stepfather's name is R. E. Grace. He also goes under the name of Earl Grace.

Connor is now held at the county jail under $4000 bail, $2000 on each of the two counts against him. The preliminary hearing will be held Wednesday morning, June 15, at 10 o'clock, before Judge Lowe.

SUNDAY CLOSING

Monday evening, 7:45, in the hall over Glendale branch library (Tropico city hall), there will be an open meeting of the Good Government League. The speaker of the evening will be Rev. W. F. Martin, associate editor of the Liberty Magazine, who will give an enlightening exposition of the national movement on foot seeking Sunday closing and other religious legislation.—Advertisement.

Carotin is the yellow coloring matter not only of the carrot, but of the yolks of eggs, and the earlaps and legs of fowls. By excluding carotin from the feed, Palmer & Kempster, poultry breeders, have produced perfectly white Leghorn hens and these have laid eggs with white yolks and unimpaired fertility. The frequent bleaching of beak, earlaps and legs observed in Leghorns during the laying period is due to the secretion of carotin in the yolk.

WIDENING BRAND AT SAN FERNANDO ROAD

One of the interesting documents presented to the Board of Trustees Thursday night by City Manager Watson was a statement of the estimated expense of securing the ground for the desired widening of Brand Boulevard at San Fernando Road as contemplated under Ordinance No. 432. The statement which was referred to the committee of the whole to be placed on the calendar of the next regular meeting of the board, was as follows:

Honorable Board of Trustees,
City of Glendale, Calif.
Mrs. Bartlett and Gentlemen:

In regard to proceedings for the widening of Brand Boulevard at San Fernando Road as contemplated under date of May 25 setting forth proposition of H. E. White and parties interested in property at this location to dedicate ground for widening of Brand boulevard on lines that would require the taking of less ground but that would permit of widening the entrance to Brand boulevard in a substantial and satisfactory manner.

Pursuant to verbal instructions of your board, I have prepared and present herewith estimate of cost of acquiring the necessary ground and improving this intersection as planned under present opening and widening proceedings and subsequent improvement proceedings, also cost of this improvement as contemplated under compromise plan. Costs under present proceedings are set forth herewith under Proposition No. 2.

Proposition No. 1

First.—Legal proceedings complete	$ 350
Second.—Cost of land to be taken	2500
Note: Ground required under Proposition No. 1 was appraised by committee of two appointed by secretary of chamber of commerce and city engineer.
Third.—Cost of street improvement	5800
Total	$9650

Fourth.—Cost to property in assessment district on the basis of a uniform assessment throughout the entire district including the property of Mr. White at the northeast corner of Brand boulevard and San Fernando road would be on the above estimate of cost per 50 foot lot $32.36.

Proposition No. 2

First.—Cost of street improvement under compromise plan $ 6300

Note: Under this plan there would be no cost for opening and widening proceedings or for ground to be taken.

Second.—Cost to property in assessment district based on a uniform assessment as in Proposition No. 1 excluding therefrom any assessment at northeast corner of San Fernando road and Brand boulevard would be 50 foot lot $22.75.

Under compromise plea property holders within the assessment district would pay $9.61 less for the completed improvement than they would be called upon to pay under the plan contemplated by present proceedings with the additional advantage that the improvement under the compromise plan could probably be completed within six months, whereas it would take at least a year and a half under Proposition No. 1.

I have also compared the cost as between Propositions No. 1 and 2 eliminating from the cost under Proposition No. 1 the cost of ground to be acquired and there is still a difference of $1.25 per assessment on 50 foot lot in favor of the compromise plan.

This is set forth merely to indicate that should the value of land to be taken be fixed at a less figure by court appraisers than estimated herein, Proposition No. 2 would cost less than Proposition No. 1.

This proposed improvement consists of, first, the extension of the present storm drain culverts about 120 feet north from their present north terminus at the south side of Forest avenue, and of reinforcing that portion which is now under the sidewalk between Forest avenue and San Fernando road. Second. Building new curbs and sidewalks along the east side of the new roadway, and, third, grading and paving the new road together with the raising of the grade of the north half of San Fernando road and the east drive of Brand boulevard and the repaving of the same to a point about 60 feet north of the north line of Forest avenue.

Mr. White's proposition is that he will dedicate the necessary ground for this improvement along the lines of plans submitted on May 12 at no cost to the city, provided that his property at the northeast corner of Brand boulevard and San Fernando road be relieved of assessment on account of improvements as set forth above.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 11.—Alexander Howat, district president of the United Mine Workers, must serve a year in jail, under an opinion handed down today in the Kansas supreme court. The court affirmed the sentence of Judge Andrew Curran of the district court, imposed for violating an injunction in calling a strike of coal miners in Kansas.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Secretary of the Navy Denby sent a cablegram today to Rear Admiral W. S. Sims at London peremptorily ordering him home as a result of the series of speeches which the head of the naval war college has made in England. The following cablegram was sent to Admiral Sims: "Remainder of your leave revoked. You will return to the United States at once and report in person to the secretary of the navy. (Signed) Denby."

DENVER, Colo., June 11.—Publicity and boycott are two of the weapons to be used by organized labor to war on the "open shop," according to a program to be submitted to the convention of the American Federation of Labor, union leaders announced today. A string of cooperative newspapers will be urged, as well as a $2,500,000 publicity campaign in the newspapers and magazines. A nation-wide campaign to boycott all except union-made goods is planned, under the direction of the union label department of the federation.

DENVER, June 11.—The committee of adjustment of the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor today recommended the adoption of resolutions ordering the New York City building trades council to immediately seat delegates of the Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators or lose its charter.

MEXICO CITY, June 11.—Public opinion in the Mexican capital was calmer today after almost a week of excitement. There were symptoms of universal hope that a basis may be found without much further delay upon which Mexico and the United States will build a new relationship devoid of the bones of contention that have endangered peace between the two nations in the past.

DUBLIN, June 11.—Early enforcement of martial law in this city is generally expected by leading business men. Already the British military authorities have issued a warning that the use of cycles in the counties of Dublin, Wicklow and Meath will be forbidden if the attacks on government troops continue.

WASHINGTON, June 11. — The United States government is going to get out of the shipping business just as fast as is consistently possible. Already having suffered financial losses that mount high into the millions in the operation of the government fleet, facing a net loss of nearly three billions in the liquidation of the shipping board's affairs and with the whole shipping situation a prolific source of criticism and condemnation in Congress, administration leaders have decided that the best thing to do for the government and for the furtherance of the nation's mercantile interests generally is to get out of the business, bag and baggage, and leave to private enterprise the task of keeping the American flag on the seven seas.

CHICAGO, June 11.—Resumption of building operations which have been tied up since May 1 by a strike of building workmen is expected immediately as the result of an agreement. Both sides of the agreement will accept Judge Landis as an arbiter.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The resolution of Senator Harrison, Democrat, of Mississippi providing for consideration of all treaties, nominations and other "executive business" by the Senate in open executive session was ordered reported unfavorably today by the Senate rules committee. Rejection of the Harrison resolution by the Senate is expected.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The state department was officially advised today that the next meeting of the Allied Supreme Council will be held about July 1, probably at Bologne. The question of the upper Silesian boundary dispute is expected to lead the program of the council and Ambassador Harvey, who will personally represent President Harding, will not participate in this discussion, as this government holds that this is a matter purely European, for settlement by the European nationals.

BERLIN, June 11. — A three days' general strike was declared at Munich today as a protest against the assassination yesterday of Herr Gareis, the Independent Socialist leader.

WHISKY ROW IN CONGRESS LOOMS

By W. H. ATKINS

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 11.—Breaking between the "wets" and "drys," begun through moves to amend and make more rigid the provisions of the Volstead law, threatens now to involve both sides of the capitol in a whiskey row.

The rum battle has many angles. The biggest fight develops out of Congressman Volstead's drive to tighten the "screws" on whiskey as a medical agent and to outlaw beer.

Other phases of the whiskey imbroglio grew out of vigorous moves by certain "wet" leaders to obtain "liberal" amendments to the dry law. One of these, fathered by Congressman Edmunds of Pennsylvania, would allow American ships to carry liquors aboard. Mr. Edmunds' proposal invites strong support from senators and congressmen. Shipping interests urge its passage on the ground that American ships are suffering competition with foreign liners. Passengers are taking passage on foreign owned boats because liquors are sold and served on them.

Verbal pyrotechnics will come soon in debates over beer. The treasury is holding up regulations which would authorize manufacture and sale of medicinal beer.

Protests Pile Up

Congressman Volstead claims congress, by an overwhelming majority, will declare beer is not a medicine, and will specifically bar it. Volstead's fight is the result of an opinion by former Attorney General Palmer, holding beer sales by druggists to be legal.

Breweries, drug manufacturers and leading anti-prohibition organizations have entered strong protests against the Volstead measure. The protests against the Edmunds' ship measure are less numerous, although it is strongly opposed by the Anti-Saloon league.

Few will deny that in congress there now exists greater support for light wines and beer. The real mystery is whether or not new accessions to the beer and wine standard will vote as they drink or think. In all wet and dry contests at the capitol the votes on liquor questions have shown, invariably, a large percentage of "wets" lining up with "dry" advocates, upon measures to clamp the lid tighter upon the rum traffic.

Three Gallons of Wine for the Sick

The "wets" in the new skirmishes may be somewhat appeased by the fact that the new Volstead bill leaves wine as a medicinal drink, which may be prescribed, along with whiskey and other "spirituous" liquors. It is probable, however, that when the finishing touches are put on the bill, before it comes to the president for his signature, it will contain many restrictions, limiting the freedom of doctors in prescribing wine for patients.

Prohibition Commissioner Kramer has suggested that it should be permissible for physicians to prescribe wine in amount equivalent in alcoholic content to whiskey allowed. Kramer figured that as patients are permitted to have three pints of whiskey a month, a just proportion of wine would be three gallons a month, gauged by its smaller content of alcohol.

The "drys" are aligned for a terrific attempt to jam their amendments through, and they freely predict they have enough votes to win. But the winning will come probably only after some spicy talkfests in both chambers, with a mixture of wrangling always to be expected in liquor debates.

BROTHERHOOD IN ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Federated Brotherhood of Glendale, to which the ladies are welcomed, will be held Tuesday evening in the First Methodist church, and the ladies of the congregation will serve the banquet which begins at 6:45. A. J. Wallace, former lieut.-governor, will be the speaker.

Wonderful Wedding Is Staged By The Baptists

Weddings may come and weddings may go, but none will surpass the wonderful little wedding witnessed at the Baptist church, Thursday afternoon.

This being the all-day meeting of the Women's Union, Mrs. J. Rodger Bentley had chosen "June Brides and Roses" as the topic for the day. A most successful program it proved to be from the very beginning when the morning work began with "White Sewing for Brides" at 10 o'clock through to the wedding itself.

The clever invitations read "Wedding Luncheon at High Noon," and surely no bride's table appeared more festive than that at which all those present were seated at the noon hour. A "real" bride's cake formed the center piece, decked most gaily with Cecil Brunner rosebuds and above this hung a beautiful cluster of white wedding bells. Places for 80 were marked with clusters of the little roses.

Reminiscences of wedding days were given in the form of after-dinner speeches.

At 2 o'clock Mrs. E. E. Ford, president of the Union opened the afternoon session with song devotionals and prayer. Reports from the different committees were made and short talks on the summer school of missions given.

Mrs. J. Rodger Bentley then introduced several brides of foreign lands and the following ladies were costumed to take their parts: Mrs. Orin Howard, Hindu bride; Mrs. A. Van Wormer, Mohammedan; Mrs. F. H. Boynton, Japanese bride; Mrs. Walter Stamps, Chinese; Mrs. Betsy Abbey, Burmes, and Mrs. Harry Chase, Alaskan Indian. Each bride told something of the marriage customs of her native land anf of the home life after marriage. Mrs. Bentley then told of the origin of some of our own customs which was very interesting. A piano duet was given by Mrs. Ray Bentley and Mrs. Thomas Hosking.

But the real feature of the afternoon came when strains of Lohengrin were softly played and the wedding procession advanced. No real wedding party were any more dignified than the dear little folks who stepped down the aisles, keeping step to the familiar air.

First came little Margaret Chase as flower girl, dropping rose petals in the path of the bride. The tiny bridesmaids held ropes of asparagus fern entwined with shasta daisies on each side of the aisle. Following the tiny flower girl came dainty little Virginia Russell, carrying a beautiful while calla lily in which was hidden the ring. The bridesmaids were gowned in pinks and blues and these were Marion and Nellie Howard, Marion Maxwell, Betty Van Wormer, Helen Bentley and Ethelwyn Kent.

With much solemnity, Howard Kent took the role of the important minister who tied the knot, his long black robe lending the air of grownup-ness.

But the demure little bride held all eyes for the moment. Little Miss Francis Harris made a most charming bride and true to all tradition was bedecked in pure white from the tip of her long flowing veil caught with tiny rose buds to her little white toes. In her arms she carried a shower bouquet of more tiny roses. The bridegroom joined her at the altar in quite the right manner and he was Master Malcom Harris, and while they stood under a cluster of white wedding bells Mrs. Ray Bentley sang "Oh, Promise Me," and it is needless to say there were the usual tears in many eyes.

After the marriage the wedding party were gathered on the steps of the church while pictures were taken.

The church was beautifully decorated with huge bowls of shasta daisies and pink roses. All present agreed that the day had been quite a success.

LUTHERANS TO HAVE CHILDREN'S DAY

"Festal Offerings," a Children's Day program, will be given at the First Lutheran church, Sunday evening, at 7:30 o'clock. The special music will include a solo, "Remember Now Thy Creator," by J. H. Nieband; and a Whistling solo by Mrs. F. J. Bowman.

Some of the "Festal Offerings" are: "Whispering Winds," "Voices of Nature," and "Summer Time is Here Again." Class songs will be rendered by the primary department.

Recitations and exercises will be given by the following persons: Gladys Muske, Marjory Majory, Ruth Sherwood, Jack Hoffman, Harold Foss, Gertrude Muske, Margaret Anderson, Wilhelmina Rieth and a reading set to music by Mary Louise Bowman. The evening offering is devoted to the Orphans' Home. You are invited to attend.

AUTOS COLLIDE ON BRAND BOULEVARD

James Neill and wife of 126 West Lomita were driving south on Brand last evening and at the Chestnut street crossing, A. W. Cadot, who was driving east on that street collided with them. The latter lost a rear wheel and had his running board crumpled up and Mr. Neill's car suffered somewhat in front as it struck the other car head on. The only one hurt was Mr. Neill who was bruised when he was thrown forward against the steering wheel. He is able to be around, however.

been in the National Guard for the past 30 years, by Major David P. Barrows of Berkeley, Major Hutton, Major Cotton and Colonel Colburn.

Friday morning the officers were taken for an auto tour of the city by representatives of the Sacramento chamber of commerce.

At one of the sessions a resolution deploring the death of Colonel Galbraith, national commander of the American Legion, was adopted and forwarded to the national headquarters of the Legion.

Speakers at the main conferences included the following prominent officers:

Lieut. Col. H. D. Colburn of the United States army who is detailed with the California National Guard as senior instructor; Major Alexander of the adjutant general's department, Major R. C. Cotton, United States army instructor; Major J. F. Sherburn, quartermaster corps of the Guard; Major R. R. Welshimer, coast artillery corps, and Lieut. Col. D. A. Smith, quartermaster corps of the National Guard.

Mr. Watson states that the Los Angeles regiment is to be known as the 160th infantry of the 40th division, C. N. G.

General Borree emphasized throughout the conferences the importance of the coming encampment at Yosemite which he thought should make a great appeal to Californians.

EPWORTH LEAGUE HOLDS BANQUET

Representatives of the Epworth League of the First Methodist, Casa Verdugo Methodist and Central Avenue Methodist churches were entertained at a delightful banquet in the dining-room of the First Methodist church last evening.

Shasta daisies and yellow coreopsis carried out the cheerful color scheme on the long dining table at which about 70 guests enjoyed the sumptuous four-course dinner.

Edwin Murphy was toastmaster and those who responded to toasts were Will Holtz, retiring president of the Pasadena district; Joe Jones, president of the district; Henry Melone, district treasurer; J. B. Clark, district secretary; Miss Ethel Murphy, president of the Casa Verdugo Epworth League and Dr. C. M. Crist.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. W. L. Y. Davis, who gave an inspiring address on the subject of "Influence."

Beautiful Vista Plan for San Fernando and Brand

south of Los Feliz road to the Southern Pacific tracks, where the right-of-way is considerably wider, the space between the curb and the tracks should be parked, either by planting flowers or a lawn. This improvement is particularly desirable for the reason that practically all of the visitors to Glendale enter the city from the south and get their first view of the city along this portion of the boulevard. It is not to be expected that the Pacific Electric railway will maintain this improvement, but the city can well afford to adopt this as a part of its park system, as it will transform an unkempt, unsightly railroad right-of-way into a beautiful and attractive boulevard garden."

To carry out this recommendation, the original committee, consisting of Kemper Campbell, Hartley Shaw and T. W. Watson, was named.

The proceedings which the city has now under consideration for widening Brand at San Fernando to cut off the sharp angle at that point, and the disposition of Harry White to cooperate with the city instead of forcing it to condemn such portion of his property as will be needed for the improvement, were set forth by Mr. Watson. He also mentioned Mr. White's intention to establish an oil station and a tractor display room there. The figures represented by the city manager indicated that the cost of beautifying the entrance to the city at that point would be about $9000.

The association also discussed the fact that Palmer avenue and Acacia are closed to any crossing of the Pacific Electric tracks, and a committee consisting of John W. Usilton, chairman; L. G. Scovern and Chris Orff, was named to ascertain if any other streets are thus closed and to present a request to the city trustees that such streets be opened.

BIG FALL BOOM IS ANTICIPATED

When asked his opinion of the outlook for the real estate business in Southern California, J. W. Pearson expressed the greatest optimism. He stated he had just been advised by a representative of one of the big title companies in Los Angeles that its correspondents in the east have advised it to expect a big boom in the fall. Acting on the tip the title company has engaged a corps of additional clerks who will be trained during the summer so they will be competent to handle the increased business they expect in the fall.

INCREASED POWER

With the election on June 28 the new charter for Glendale becomes effective, giving to the city increased power and larger opportunities for development.

If Glendale is to continue her marvelous growth she must have a board of trustees of superior intelligence, real wisdom, a strict sense of justice, firm conviction and independent, fearless spirit. The possession of these qualifications is especially to be desired at this time because of important and far-reaching developments which are provided for in the new charter and which must be set in motion if Glendale is to take her place as a progressive city, with an individuality all her own.

First and foremost among these necessary improvements that make for the city's expansion is an adequate sewer system. Some means must be devised (and the sooner the better) to provide this all-important adjunct to the city's growth. There is already a plan worked out in the city manager's office whereby this may be accomplished. The question of sewage disposal, however, is a moot one all over the country at present, so that it has been thought best to hold all plans here in abeyance for a time; but Glendale must not and cannot postpone this needed improvement much longer. Upon the establishment of a sewer system depends, in a large measure, at least, the building of a great hotel in Glendale—another improvement necessary to our future growth.

The idea of an independent postoffice for Glendale is one which not only the board of trustees and the city Chamber of Commerce should foster, but also every other live booster for Glendale. Adequate postal service means much in facilitating business here and bringing in new business as well.

The development of roads and boulevards to take care of ever-increasing traffic here and the encouraging and urging of adequate transportation facilities are other problems that call for a wise, progressive board of trustees.

It is the duty of every loyal Glendale citizen to consider carefully the qualifications of the various candidates for these positions and others that effect vitally the future welfare of our city. Surely no citizen of Glendale who fails to vote at this election should consider himself in the light of a slacker. Every one of us owes it to Glendale to give these matters our best thought; and we surely owe it to the city we call home, as well as to ourselves, to take the trouble to vote. This is not merely our privilege; it is more a serious duty, whose neglect is a matter of which we should be ashamed.

BE CHARITABLE

Anyone who propagates antagonism to any race or creed represented in the citizenship of this country, whether it be directed against English, Irish, Poles or negroes, or against Catholicism, Protestantism or Judaism, attacks the very foundation of our most characteristic and most highly cherished American institutions.

Appeals to racial and religious prejudices and hatreds in defense of certain vested interests merit the contempt of all decent men, wherever and by whomsoever made. When made in our own country, where there are millions of peoples of diverse lands and races who are not yet welded into anything approaching national homogeneity, where our national life, with its alien masses only partly assimilated, is extremely susceptible to the inflaming of passion, such appeals to prejudice become the most insidious form of treason.

Conditions in our land afford exceptional opportunities for the development by designing or misguided propagandists of hatreds born of misunderstandings and prejudices. Having drawn heavily upon the Old World for our population, we naturally reflect the antipathies, the divisions, the jealousies and the suspicions which for hundreds and, in some instances thousands, of years have been the bane of mankind.

The world has just emerged from the terrible strain and agony of the most disastrous war ever known in history. Even yet civilization is weak and unsteady, like a man in the first stages of convalescence from a dreadful fever. The most thoughtful care should be exercised by the molders of public opinion in every nation, as well as by the peoples of the world themselves, to make a return to normal conditions possible.

Never in the history of the world was there a time when racial or religious antagonism was as dangerous as it is in the present state of our country and of the world at large. Every one should cooperate now in thought, word and deed for the preservation of the sacred institutions that are our common heritage.

GRAVE AND GAY

AT THE PAGEANT

This year's carnival kink undoubtedly "became his costume," and on the balcony of the Boston club, as his car approached, the whisper rustled:

"My dear, what handsome legs Sidney White has!"

One brown-eyed girl in a rose-pink hat even went so far as to wish audibly that he would stand up "so as to give us a better view."

"What a gracious manner!" exclaimed an elderly lady, wielding a lorgnette. "See how he keeps kissing his hand to the crowd."

"There's a reason," retorted her keener-eyed granddaughter. "His moustache is about to come off and every time he kisses his hand he tries to stick it on again."

Balzac's "Comedie Humaine" embodies some 5000 characters, studied in, and taken from every class of society.

HE WANTED MORE

Mabel was telling Isabel of the shy young man that had for some months been "gone" on her, but whose suit had languished because he simply hadn't the courage to speak out. Finally, Mabel said, she decided that it was "up to her" to take decisive measures. Accordingly the next time he called she pointed to the carnation in his buttonhole and said: "I'll give you a kiss for that carnation."

Whereupon the bashful suitor's color outdid the carnation in brilliancy, but the exchange was effected. Then the young man grabbed his hat and started to leave the room.

"Where are you going?" demanded Mabel, surprised.

"To the florists' for more carnations," he called out as he shot through the doorway.

Still there are sentimental people who wouldn't be satisfied if the entire reel was devoted to the clinch.

WOMAN'S COZY CORNER

By JOSEPHINE FRANCE

THE VACUUM CLEANER ITS USES AND CARE

Most all vacuum cleaners look alike, that is, they have the same general type of bag, of handle, also of motor and attachments.

Except for a slight difference in the shape of the bag, method of cleaning etc., the principle is the same, although one or two makes advertising a paper bag that can be renewed in place of the cloth bag in common use.

One type of cleaner has the cord carrying the current in the center of the handle and the power is turned on and off by a small switch resembling an electric light switch. Another model has the cord connected direct to the motor, while still a third has the cord screwed into the motor with s socket attachment.

But the most important thing to be considered in the purchase of a vacuum cleaner is the motor. A good motor is as essential to a vacuum cleaner is the motor. A good motor is as essential to a vacuum cleaner as it is to an automobile, and upon the life of the motor depends the life of the cleaner.

In buying a cleaner—or any other electric appliance—it is always well to make sure that the company putting out the cleaner is still a going concern, so that any parts can be replaced without difficultty, or the machine itself be replaced or repaired if not entirely satisfactory.

And in this respect there is one other injunction. Learn all there is to know about your machine and then take care of it! No machine is magic—it must have care, it must be oiled. Follow the directions that come with the machine—they have been worked out to lengthen the life of the machine and its efficiency and it is money in your purse to live up to them.

This practically completes the list there is still another type of vacuum installation, where the vacuum machine is located in the basement of a building and iron pipes connect with each room.

The vacuum machine may be run by electricity or by gasoline motor. The attachments to use with this installation are rather the same as are used with the portable machines, but, of course, the suction is more powerful than in the portable types.

The vacuum cleaner, no matter the make or type, does not content itself with being merely a carpet sweeper. There is practically no limit to its cleaning capabilities. Furniture, mattresses, pillows, draperies, need no longer wait the pleasure of the weather man, but can be cleaned indoors with little or no labor of lifting or carrying. And cleaned without scattering one bit of dust!

The cleaning attachments which moke for such delightful possibilities are more or less similar. They consist of a length of rubber tubing and several shapes of nozzles, best adapted to cleaning purposes. There is a flat narrow nozzle for cleaning under low pieces of furniture; a small, soft-nosed nozzle for mattresses and upholstered furniture, to coax the dust from the tufting; and there are various shapes of nozzles with a surrounding row of bristles for use where brushing seems necessary.

It is of interest to the householder with a private lighting system to know that almost all of these cleaners can be equipped to use with such a system, thus increasing the distribution of these household blessings beyond the radius of the larger cities.

PATENT CLAIMS

The answer to the first question indicates the relation claims bear to a patent.

The claims in a patent constitute its right to exist, they are the 'vitals' of every Patent Grant. Without the Claims, the drawing, the preamble, the general statement, the description of the drawing, and the detailed description of the invention, (all of which must form a part of the application,) would be of no consequence. They form the implements of offense and defense in every patent suit Their real strength and the manner in which they are utilized by counsel, govern the outcome of all patent litigation. The word strength is qualified by real for this reason, many a claim comes into court, having the aspect of the "club of Goliath" and goes out but the shattered, card board imitation of it. Anticipation and public use are the shields many times presented by the opponent, against which the clubs of seemly enduring strength are shattered. The interpretation which your opponent will give them at times, is invention itself, while the twisting and bending they will receive in the battle, at the hands of the expert for the defense, are frequently destructive.

It is well to remember that each claim is a patent in itself, separate and distinct from every other claim.

Strong claims are always desirable; but if they are secured by exerting a hypnotizing influence on the Examiner, as some claims, in view of the prior state of the art seem to indicate, they are of little account, except for use in bluffing an opponent. "Know thyself" and thy patent claims. Do not deceive yourself; if they look solid and are but shells, know it.

PATENT CLAIMS

Q. Patent Claim, what is a

A. The vital part of a patent.

Q. Purpose of a Patent Claim. What is it?

A. It has two objects. One is to make known the manner of construction, so as to enable one skilled in the art to make and use it and thus give to the public the full benefit of the discovery after the expiration of the patent. The other is to put the public in posession of what the patentee claims as his invention and to warn an innocent purchaser of any infringement of the patent.

Q. Patent Statutes, Requirements. What are they as regards the patent claims?

A. That the inventor, after describing and explaining his invention in full, clear, and concise terms, "shall particularly point out and distinctly claim the part, improvement or combination which he claims as his invention or discovery."

Q. Protection of a patent claim. What does it afford?

A. "A Patent to the original inventor of a machine which performs a useful function, protects him against all machines that perform the same function, by equivalent mechanical devices; but a patent to one who has only made a slight improvement on a device that performed the same function before, as after the improvement, is protected only against those who use the very improvement he describes and claims, or mere colorable evasions of it." Court opinion.

Q. Claims. Of what are they composed?

A. Of the different elements or parts which go to make up the completed structure.

Q. Claims. How must they be stated to cause them to come within the Patent Statute?

A. So they will enable one skilled in the art to make and use the apparatus.

Q. All uses? Is an inventor entitled to all uses and advantages under the claims?

A. Yes.

Q. Uses not known. Is an inventor entitled to uses of which he was not aware when he took his patent?

A. Yes

Q. Limited to special construction. Does a patent drawing, showing a special construction not specifically pointed out and defined, serve to limit the construction broadly claimed?

A. No.

STUDIO NEWS AND GOSSIP

Sylvia Breamer, now with Goldwyn, "broke into motion pictures" as a corpse in "The Whip."

Myrtle Stedman, before becoming a picture actress, was a musical comedy comedienne.

Ethel Grey Terry was born in Oakland, and was graduated at Notre Dame, Boston.

George Webb, accomplished screen villain, was born in Indianapolis, and had eight years' stage experience before engaging in pictures.

Stuart Holmes has been given an important role in "Fanny Herself," the Edna Ferber story now being filmed for Universal release.

Eddie Polo, until very recently Universal's serial star, is keeping in training with a series of fast two-reelers dealing with "the old west."

LASKY DEAN 'BROADMINDED'

Theodore Robert, the eminent character actor, who enjoys the distinction of being "the dean of the Lasky studio" in Los Angeles, recently was a hospital inmate. A minor operation had been performed and he was slowly recovering from the effects of the anaesthetic used. His solicitous wife hovered over his bed, watching for the first sign of consciousness. At last he opened his eyes and with a smile recognizzed his mate.

"Dear," she said, "what kind of a nure do you want? Blonde or brunette?"

The old actor wiggled hi nose and then stroked his chin in the manner that all picture fans know and whispered: "I'm broad-minded!"

A brownish color—unlike rust—taken on by polished parts of expensive machinery has been found to resist removal by rubbing with waste and lubricating oil. It appears on metal parts exposed to the sun, and shaded spot remain quite bright. It is concluded that the action of light causes the oil to deposit carbon, which absorbed in the pores of the metal gives the brownish stain.

BUYS CHURCH TO ESCAPE HIGH RENTS

(By International News Service)
DENVER, June 11.—C. J. Whitehurst, local insurance man, grew weary of being a victim of profiteering landlords, so he bought a church, in which his wife, a small daughter and himself are living comfortably.

Whitehurst purchased the Fourth Congregational Community church, which had just been abandoned, and now the church building is his sanctuary against the "rent hog."

At present the Whitehurst family is living in the basement of the church. It has a kitchen and bath, and a large room 30 feet square. Pending the erection of partitions, the large room has been divided by imaginary lines into living room, dining-room and bedroom.

The auditorium of the church is approximately 40 feet square, and Whitehurst plans to complete his home by dividing this space into several rooms

Drink Quart of Milk Daily

(By International News Service)
BOSTON, June 11.—Milk is rich in vitamins, says Dr. M. J. Roseneau, professor of preventive medicine at Harvard, in an original article just published. Furthermore, he says that milk is rich in calcium in a readily available form—and that children need five times as much calcium per pound of body weight as adults.

"In order to supply this important salt to growing bones and developing teeth, as well as to furnishing vitamins for the utilization of food," says the article, "a child should drink a quart of milk a day. It will not then suffer from a deficiency disease. Our health, as well as power to utilize food depends upon the daily intake of these vitamins. Life itself is threatened by deprivation of them for any length of time. Hence, the vitamin problem is of daily and universal interest to all persons."

James A. Garfield was the first president whose mother saw him inaugurated. She was known as "Mother Garfield."

A woman 5 feet 8 inches in height should properly weigh about 155 pounds. One 5 feet 9 inches tall could reasonably weigh 163 pounds.

SUNSET CANYON CLUB STARTS WORK ON BUILDING

Members and friends of the Sunset Canyon Country club located near Glendale, will be glad to learn that work on the big building is well under way, and that within the next few months one of the finest club buildings in the country will have been completed and thrown open to the several hundred members from Glendale and surrounding country.

Cabin Sites

A very distinctive, unusual and attractive feature of the club plans will be the cabin-sites to members, rent-free during their life as such.

Seven different sections of the canyon will be allotted to members in lots of 25x50 feet in size, but the eighth section, on Tuesday, June 21 at 8 a.m. will be thrown open for location by its members, each will be permitted to run and locate a lot 100x100 feet in this section, members must before making the run, secure an iron stake on this day and hour with the number pressed in the iron, the stake may be had at any time after 8 a.m. Tnesday, June 21, 1921, at the gate on Olive avenue at the entrance to the club-grounds, it will be amusing on that morning to see the race as hundreds of members will be on hand to run for a choice lot which must be located outside of roads or reserves of the club, which will be plainly indicated by signs.

New Auto Road Now Building Up Sunset Canyon.

R. Houle has taken on concession and is now building an excellent roadway up Sunset Canyon, into sections seven and eight, which will be in operation July 1st with stage line and burro trains at end of stage line.

Reserves have been taken by him and arrangements are being made for the "Himalaya Gables" resort in section eight near the reservoir, where cottages may be rented by members and guests, a wonderfully scenic resort location for amusements and recreation. A burro train is now contracted for.

Big Job Ahead.

The club house will be a job of six to eight months in completion, when the golf course will be also finished.

A rush in building cabins and cottages will begin at once after June 21, and trucks will be available for hauling lumber and material for members building cabins, and stages will then be in operation. Many beautiful cabins are now planned and will be built at once.

Unique plans are arranged for a large associate membership for outside counties and states, whereby such members will stop over at the club house on tours, thus enabling the club to realize a splendid revenue from its meals and rooms, and furnish a noted resort for its guests, which will in time be permanently advertised all over the state and country and will be a great and lasting benefit and advertisement to Burbank.

Present membership drive closes on June 20, and fees raised to $120.

In order that there may be no misunderstanding, A. E. Howell, of the membership department, has requested that notice to this effect be printed for the benefit of Glendale members.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB ISSUES ROAD MAP

What is considered to be the greatest motoring map ever compiled in its line has just been issued by the Automobile club of Southern California.

This map has been issued for the use of motorists who enjoy golfing and for golfists who enjoy motoring. It shows 32 golf courses located in the counties of Southern California from San Diego to Santa Barbara.

The map was prepared by the club at the request of the Southern California Golf association and 4000 copies will be used in the U. S. Golf Manual, which is the official publication of the U. S. Golf association, and will thus be available for golf enthusiasts all over America.

In one corner of the map is a special chart showing the shortest and best route connecting each of the 32 golf courses with the other. This chart also shows the condition of the roads between the various courses.

Nowhere else in the world can be found such a large number of golf clubs connected by a net-work of paved roads.

The greatest distance separating any two of the Southern California golf courses is 246 miles, being between La Cumbre Golf club at Santa Barbara and the San Diego Country club at Chula Vista. Even this entire route is paved.

These maps will soon be available for all golfing motorists through the various offices of the Automobile club.

The destruction of pedestrians by speedsters wouldn't seem so wanton if their hides were worth anything.

MORE SUMMER TOURING THAN EVER

Motorists planning a trip to eastern points at this time are advised by the touring bureau of the Automobile club of Southern California that the great Santa Fe trail is temporarily closed between Albuquerque and La Junta.

Flood conditions which have recently swept Pueblo are responsible for the closing of this route, caused by the overflow of the Arkansas and Rio Grande rivers. All bridges are out.

However, this does not mean that motor travel between Southern California and eastern points is completely at a standstill. The Automobile club has arranged a detour by way of Estancia Clovis and Dodge city for the use of automobile owners who find it necessary to undertake this trip.

The club crew which is engaged in a nation-wide charting trip has been marooned near Pecos in Texas on account of flood conditions along the Pecos river. Word is received daily from members of this crew in regard to road conditions throughout the southern states and this information may be obtained by motorists who are planning an eastern trip at this time. Local highway conditions and general road conditions throughout the southern part of the state are excellent, despite the rains of last month, according to the latest bulletin issued by the Automobile club.

Important information is contained in the announcement that both roads to Lake Tahoe and vicinity are now open. These are Truckee-Donner Lake road and the Placerville-Strawberry road, and are in wonderful shape. It is also stated that the Big Oak Flat road into Yosemite valley is excellent.

There will be more summer touring this year hereabouts than ever before.

DR. F. L. RILEY HERE TOMORROW

Dr. Frank L. Riley, metaphysical lecturer of Hollywood will deliver a free lecture Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in Masonic hall, Brand boulevard on the subject of the "Psychology of Success."

Dr. Riley, who is a lecturer of international prominence, has been lecturing in this locality for years, is well and very favorably known. He caters to those especially who have sufficient initiative to do their own thinking, those who do not pay someone to think for them. See advertisement on another page of this issue.

The real secret of a happy tour for pleasure or profit in this wonderful country of automobile travel is in being prepared for the tour in advance.

The Generator must be in A-1 condition and, with this, of no less importance, is the Battery. Bear these suggestions in mind and the vacation trip will be grand.

CERTIFICATES FOR TYPEWRITING

All the students of the typewriting class of the local high school, who made a record of at least 40 words a minute for ten minutes without error, will receive a typing certificate as soon as they arrive. These students are Millicent Alvord, Evelyn Apple, Kathryn Bishop, Bernard Dennison, Violet Dixon, Hope Ireland, Grace Judd, Faith Kennedy, Esther Klein, Paulette LeClercq, Garnet Peters, Fern Peters, Helena Richardson, Nellie Rowe, Mildred Sawyer, Elsa Steffens, Hermina Stadt, Lucy Strother, William Winfield and Helen Vredenburg.

Violet Dixon will receive a primary certificate from the Underwood company for writing 37 words a minute for ten minutes with not more than five errors.

Hope Ireland will receive a primary certificate from both the Underwood and Remington companies.

SUN IS NOT CENTER OF OUR UNIVERSE

Many scientists contend that this universe is a thousand times larger than has been believed, and the earth, far from being in the center of things, is 360 quintillion miles from the center of the universe, according to discoveries discussed recently by Dr. Harlow Shapley, noted astronomer, who recently came to Harvard from the Mt. Wilson observatory in California.

Dr. Shapley is a comparatively young astronomer, yet he has won a high place in his professional field. He is a graduate of the Missouri State University and of Princeton. He was identified with the Mt. Wilson observatory seven years.

By taking the distance between sun and earth as a base for triangulation measurements, vast distances in the past have been recorded until such lines have been extended hundreds of light years and even to the border of measurements, the Pleiades.

Light travels at the rate of 186,000 miles a second and a light year is the distance a ray of light will travel in one year.

The Pleiades are hardly in the front yard of Dr. Shapley's galaxy, which he has meausred and found to be in length about 300,000 light years. It is a super-milky way.

A light year, the distance a beam of light will travel in one year, is 6,000,000,000,000 miles. It takes but eight minutes for light to come to the earth from the sun, 93,000,000 miles away.

The young astronomer has proved by calculations that the sun—the little speck of light around which a tiny shadow called the earth revolves—is not by any means the center of the universe, but is 60,000 light years off the center. He has caused our proud solar system to take a long sidereal sidestep into insignificance.

"Personally, I am glad to see man sink into such physical nothingness," said the scientist, "and it is wholesome for human beings to realize of what small importance they are in comparison with the universe."

In fact, Dr. Shapley appeared enthusiastic over the fact that he has reduced the size of the earth a thousand times.

SOFT MUSIC FOR A HARD GUY—
—ONE REELER
BE SEATED, GOOFUS—
ON THIS HARD, UNCOMFORTABLE CHAIR??
I'M SORRY,- I HAVENT A CUSHION:
I DETEST A SOLID WOODEN SEAT—
YES, THEY ARE HARD. PULL IT OVER TOWARD THE LAMP,- THAT WILL MAKE IT MORE COMFORTABLE.
WHY SO?
THE FROSTED SHADE WILL THROW A SOFT LIGHT ON IT.

MYSTERY OF THE THREE CARROTS.. FILM OF GLOOM →

ITS HALF PAST THREE, TUESDAY AFTERNOON, AND MRS. GLUM IS CAREFULLY PARING THREE PINK PARSNIPS.

THE CLOCK STRIKES SIX. THE DOOR OPENS AND MR. GLUM ENTERS. HE YELLS FRANTICALLY FOR HIS WIFE. SHE ANSWERS NOT.

AL-LISS

UP IN MINNIE'S ROOM HE FINDS HER, LYING ON A FOOT STOOL, CLUTCHING A RUSTY FISH BONE IN HER LEFT HAND.

HE LOOKS AT HER. THE COLOR IS ALL GONE FROM HER FACE. "MY GOSH!" HE SHRIEKS, "SHE'S WASHED THAT ROUGE OFF AT LAST." HE SWOONS —.

THE END.
PASS OUT QUIETLY.
